Free animated movies for Black History Month

Want your kids to know the basics about Brown vs. Board of Education and the Underground Railroad? In honor of Black History Month, BrainPOP.com is offering several short animated movies on African-American history topics for free during February.

Other subjects include the civil rights movement, the Harlem Renaissance, apartheid, Malcolm X, Martin Luther King Jr., Jackie Robinson, Maya Angelou and Oprah Winfrey. The movies are led by a teenage boy named Tim and his pet robot, Moby.

BrainPOP, an online resource featuring hundreds of short movies on math, science, English, social studies, arts and health topics for grades 3-8, is used in more than 25 percent of the nation's schools, with more than 4 million viewers every day. Family subscriptions cost $9.95 a month.
